The Pole Forest

Time capsules will be buried under the “forest” of poles and the Eucalyptus trees will outgrow the poles. We will then reveal the time capsules, remove the poles, and all the native forest recovers the space.

Bowling Green

The Victoria Bowling Club has been occupying the northern part of the new University Square since 1876. To accommodate the bowling green, nine new iconic social gathering spaces which also have the same value.

Fire Pit

Through the removal of the Lith trees, twelve stumps will be preserved and, re-located in the pit, if possible it is a part of symbolizing the act of clearing the way to create spaces.

Temporary Space

The three smaller spaces are designed for temporary art installations or cultural activities, allowing users to collaborate and develop their own narratives.

Section through the middle axis